

Who we are

GREEVIKA Research Foundation (GRF) is a non-profit national research organization, focusing on data-oriented evidence and research-based solutions at the ground level. We are fighting to create an equal, sustainable, and hygienic living environment for all. We are working to create an impact in the field of Women empowerment through improving skills and providing livelihood opportunities, Climatic issues for a cleaner, sustainable environment to combat climatic changes, Waste Management for the hygienic and clean surroundings, Sustainable living, and Migration issues.

Climate Yatra

The ClimateYatra is developed to involve and aware community, children, and schools to mitigate the future impacts of climate change. ClimateYatra's vision is to make people understand and address the impact of global warming, increases "climate literacy" among young people, encourages changes in their attitudes and behaviour, and help them adapt to climate change-related trends. The project aims to engage 50,000 students and 1000 volunteers by 2025.
